CAPTAIN OF DEATH DIRIGIBLE TELLS TRAGIC STORY

Accident Comes Without Any
Warning; Only American
Saved Has Statement

By CHARLES E. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
HULL, England, Aug. 25.—The most graphic stories, the greatest disaster in the history of the air when the ZR-2, world's largest dirigible exploded, burst in two and fell flaming into the river Humber, carrying sixteen Americans and twenty-seven British to their deaths, were told the United Press today by Flight Lieut. A. H. Wann, commander of the airship, and Norman O. Walker, the only American saved.

"The whole thing happened in five seconds," Wann said, lying in Hull hospital.

"My ship was running beautifully at sixty knots an hour as we swung over the city of Hull. Out tests were nearly finished. We hoped to be down soon."

Hears Terrific Crack
"I had just signalled that the speed be reduced to fifty knots when suddenly I heard a terrific crack. I believe that several girders must have broken. The ship buckled and the explosion followed."

"The cause of the explosion will probably never be known."

"I was in sole control of the ZR-2 when the disaster occurred," Lieutenat Wann continued. "I felt the forward car, from which I was commanding the ship, falling swiftly through the air, immediately after the loud crack amidships."

"Then it rose sharply at a high angle. I pulled the water ballast for the purpose of leveling the keel."

Killed Outright by Blast
"Suddenly there was a terrific explosion which I felt and heard in the forward car. I think many men were killed outright by the blast, for they would have been inside the envelope amidships."

"Some of the crew and officers jumped when the ship caught fire. I remained on board until we were close to the water. Then I jumped, but was caught by the wreckage and pinned down for fifteen minutes. The flaming pieces of the ZR-2 fell about me and I was burned about the head and face. I lost consciousness and when I awoke I was in the hospital."

Only American Saved
Norman O. Walker of Commerce, Texas, the only American saved, told the United Press today:

"No one will ever have a clear idea of just what happened. I was with two Britishers at the extreme tail of the ZR-2 when the explosion shook the ship and she broke in two, and our half fell, tail downward."

"The three of us clung on and we (Continued on Page 3)

Cornelia Wilson Is Hostess at Midnight
Supper for Friends

One of the most novel and unique innovations introduced in Glendale's summer social season took place last night at the home of Miss Cornelia Wilson of 1229 1/2 North Brand boulevard when she entertained a group of friends at a "midnight supper."

The five guests arrived on the scene shortly before the "tolling of twelve bells" and just as the cuckoo clock announced that another day was about to be ushered forth they were directed by their fair hostess to "gather around the festive board."

Following the meal, which consisted of a delicious five-course dinner, the young men of the party left via automobile on a week's camping trip which will take them to Yosemite valley and several other well-known resorts in the northern part of the state, while the northern ladies remained as Miss Wilson's house guests.

Those who enjoyed Miss Wilson's hospitality were Misses Margaret Morgan and Marguerite Eckles, both of this city; Messrs. John Richardson and Samuel Thompson of Glendale and Loren Patrick of Eagle Rock City.

RETURN TO NEEDLES HOME
Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bresnahan, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Bresnahan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Webster of 1020 South Central avenue, left Wednesday night for their home in Needles. Mrs. Bresnahan had been in this city for the past two weeks, being joined by her husband last week. The return trip is being made via automobile.

Mrs. Bresnahan, who was formerly Miss Leola Webster of this city, is well known among Glendale's younger social set, having lived here several years previous to her marriage on Thanksgiving of last year. She graduated from the local high school with the June class of 1920.

Last Message From Dirigible Says 'Back Broken, We're Afire'

HOWDEN, England, Aug. 25.—"The ship's back is broken. We are afire and falling. We—"

This was the last message sent out by the ZR-2, whose wireless officer, Lieut. V. H. Wicks, remained gallantly at his post to the last moment, communicating with the airdrome here.

Although facing certain death, Lieutenant Wicks stuck to his post, it was believed here, from the fact that his message was broken in the middle.

Only One American Saved
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.—Official word was received by the navy department today that only one of the seventeen Americans on board the ill-fated ZR-2 which exploded over Hull, England, yesterday, was saved. He is Norman O. Walker of Commerce, Texas. All the others were either instantly killed when the explosion occurred or succumbed to their injuries.

MAKE INSPECTION
OF SCHOOL SITES

Grand View District Is Being Visited by Superintendent Richardson D. White

Inspection of school sites in the Grand View district is under way this afternoon.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of the city schools, is accompanying two representatives from that section of the city on a tour of the district and looking over the available locations with a view of reporting to the committee of nineteen which is considering a building program to be incorporated in a bond issue to be voted on this fall.

The Grand View Improvement association is taking an active interest in obtaining a school building nearer the homes of the outlying district to avoid street car trips each morning and afternoon by their children.

The question of transportation comes before the board at its meeting tonight and both the busses and electric cars are being considered.

According to County Superintendent Mark Keppel, Los Angeles has solved its problem in outlying districts by having parents pay their children's fare when not more than 10 cents a ride. Any amount over that sum is refunded.

Bids on equipment for the Central avenue basement rooms which are being completed by Contractor Peter L. Ferry also will come before the board tonight and purchases likely will be made.

One week from tonight a definite report on the improvements needed by Glendale's schools to care for the rapidly increasing enrollment is expected by Superintendent White from the committee of nineteen representing all districts in the city.

BACK FROM BEACH OUTING
Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Smith and their daughter, Miss Ruby Smith of 1022 North Louise street, returned to their home this week from a fortnight's outing and vacation spent at Huntington Beach. While at the seaside resort the party were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Smith's son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Smith, who have been living in the recently booming oil center for several years. Mr. Smith, Jr., is a former resident of this city, having lived here with his parents for a number of years prior to going to Huntington Beach. While in Glendale he was connected with the Central Market and Grocery, which was then located on North Brand boulevard.

MOVE INTO LOS ANGELES
Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kennitz and their six children, who have been living at the home of Mrs. Kennitz's sister, Mrs. Raymond Allen of 908 North Louise street, for several weeks, moved to Los Angeles Wednesday, where they will occupy their new home. During their stay in Glendale the Kennitz family became acquainted with many local citizens, and it is with much reluctance that they are leaving the city.

FROM LAUREL CANYON
Mrs. T. H. Mertens and son, Carl Mertens of Laurel Canyon, formerly of Glendale, were in this city yesterday looking after business interests. Mrs. Mertens states that she hopes to be back in Glendale to live before long.

RETURNS FROM NEW YORK
Mrs. M. J. Brewer of 429 South Kenwood street returned Sunday evening from a seven weeks' visit in New York City and other eastern points of interest.

STAGE AND SCREEN STARS TO APPEAR AT EXPOSITION

Varied Attractions Will Be Presented Daily; Exhibits
Now Being Installed

Two big stars of the stage and screen have been secured to appear at the Greater Glendale Merchants' Exposition here by Classic Marlowe, director of entertainment for the Pacific Coast Exposition company, according to H. Elmo La Breque, the director general.

Irene Engle, who closed an engagement at the Cinderella Roof Garden in Los Angeles last night will present a classical singing act at each afternoon and evening show. Viola Dolan, a William Fox film star, will be one of the headliners in the manikins displaying the latest fashions.

Other feature attractions will be announced from day to day by Miss Marlowe, who, herself, is a prize-winning beauty of the San Francisco exposition.

Installing Displays
Visitors at the big tent, which covers a large part of the high school athletic field, will see the giant runway under process of decoration today and many of the merchants will be found installing their exhibits in the different booths. Real artistry is being displayed and with the riot of lights and color, the exposition's opening on Saturday should seem like a veritable fairyland.

Almost hourly Messrs. La Breque and Cavenagh are turning down offers for additional space—the big tent is literally "plumb full" and the only booths available are one or two along the runway.

Much About Fashions
Glendale women are going to learn a great deal about the fall fashions during the week, according to the dealers in ladies' ready-to-wear clothing. And home-makers will get a big insight into electrical goods, foods, household appliances, etc., while the motor car enthusiasts will have their choice of many machines.

"No better site could have been selected for this show," said Harry E. White, treasurer of the Exposition company, as he was busily arranging details for the opening. "Every person coming into Glendale on the Pacific Electric will see the main entrance on Brand boulevard. The level high school grounds carpeted with sawdust will give the exhibitors an almost level floor while the earth will be much easier on the feet of those attending than cement or wood."

Plenty of Everything
Plenty of music, plenty of ventilation, plenty of prizes and plenty of educational and entertainment numbers will combine to make the exposition the mecca for more than 5000 people daily, it is expected.

Oakland motorears represented by Green & McClellan and the Valley Supply company are among the exhibitors who will have displays at the exposition. Their names were left out of yesterday's list through a typographical oversight.

Postal Inspector Is Interviewing Business
Men on Service Here

Answering the petition of more than 2,000 heads of families in Glendale who desire the establishment of an independent postoffice here, the department has an inspector here today interviewing business men and others concerned.

As years of experience has proved the present service not in keeping with the progress of the town, the Chamber of Commerce got behind a renewed effort to obtain for Glendale—which this city justly deserves—a postmaster of its own.

Congressman Walter Lineberger has informed The Glendale Evening News he will leave nothing undone to obtain the postoffice for Glendale and the necessity of the change has been emphasized in many recent letters to Dr. Hubert Work, first assistant postmaster general at Washington.

If the report of the inspector fails to bring the desired result, it is understood that the Chamber of Commerce and business men may send emissaries to the capital and effectually stop the control of Los Angeles officials over the destinies of Glendale postal service.

HOME FROM CATALINA
Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Bagley and family, accompanied by Mr. Bagley's niece and nephew, Lillian and Frank Cooney, have just returned to Glendale from a ten days' outing at Catalina and are again located at their home at 1421 Valley View Road. They had originally planned to remain at the "magic isle" several weeks, but they later decided to return this week.

BOY SCOUTS ENJOY OUTING IN LYTLE CREEK CANYON

Parents of Youngsters Are Invited to Visit Camp
During Coming Sunday

By H. BENJAMIN ROBISON
Glendale Scout Director
Special to The Evening News
Camp in Lytle creek was pitched Monday afternoon and every one of the twenty-three boys were comfortably situated for the first night of their outing in the San Bernardino mountains.

Tuesday morning the Scouts hiked to Bonita falls, three of the most beautiful cataracts in southern California. In the afternoon we all enjoyed a swim in the wonderful pool at the Glen ranch.

Parents of the boys are extended a cordial invitation to visit the camp on Sunday and see what the Glendale Boy Scout Council is offering in the way of an ideal outing.

The camp is in the Lytle creek canyon and accessible by good roads. For those who wish to write the boys—and they are urged to do so—the address is "Glendale Boy Scout Camp, San Bernardino, Calif., Care of Glen Ranch, Lytle Creek Canyon."

The Boy Scouts left here early Monday morning accompanied by their director and Benjamin Robison, Sr., Scoutmaster of Troop 2. Many Glendale people are planning on spending the week-end at their camp, and see the Scouts in action.

APPEAL FOR FEDERAL TROOPS TO HALT MINERS' MARCH
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 25.—Five thousand miners, many of them armed, were reported this afternoon marching from Marmet, 12 miles from here, toward the coal fields in Mingo and Logan counties, in protest against martial law there. Governor Morgan telegraphed the war department in Washington urging that 1000 federal troops be sent to the scene to halt the invasion. Reports to the governor's office said the miners were marching like a veritable army, commandeering stores as they advanced, some walking and some riding in automobiles. Advices from Logan said that hundreds of citizens there were organizing to oppose the advance of the miners. An armed clash was feared.

STEAMER SINKS, AND DEATH LIST MAY REACH FORTY
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Fears that a death list as high as forty may result from the sinking early today of the steamer Canadian Importer, 625 miles southwest of the Columbia river, were expressed when word was received that the rescuing ship Cordova, carrying, according to dispatches, "part of the crew," had left the scene of the wreck for Portland, Oregon. A previous dispatch to the Seattle harbor department and relayed to San Francisco stated that one of the lifeboats, believed to have contained forty persons, most of them members of the crew, was still missing. The two reports, coming on the heels of one another, were taken in marine circles to mean that the Cordova had abandoned hope of finding the missing lifeboat. Possibility that the missing boat may be able to "live" in the open sea and eventually be picked up or reach land, was considered.

UNIQUE PARTY FOR MISS FAYE GOULD, VISITOR HERE

Miss Grace Crampton Gives
'Railroad Trip' in Behalf of Her House Guest

Fun and merriment ran riot on Wednesday night in the home of Miss Grace Crampton, 325 West Burdett street, when she gave an elaborate farewell dinner party for her house guest, Miss Faye Gould, who leaves for her home in Independence, Missouri, on Monday next.

The whole decorative scheme carried out the idea of travel, and the fun started immediately on the arrival of the guests, when each one was presented with a train ticket and baggage check on the "Frolitown, Funville & Feather Brain Railway."

When the guests were ushered into the dining room they found the long dinner table represented a miniature railway system, stretching from Los Angeles at one end, where sat the hostess, to Independence, Missouri, at the other, where Miss Gould was placed. Land, water, grass and trees were faithfully portrayed. The train was on the tracks, headed for Independence, and the semaphore down, denoting its early arrival there.

Claim Their Baggage
The guests found their sections by numbers and claimed their baggage, which proved to be tiny suitcases packed with bon bons and nuts.

The railroad ticket entitled them to all the privileges of the trip, and included meals and entertainment. After dinner, according to the ticket, certain points of interest were supposedly visited. These were: "Literary Lights," "Museum of Masterpieces in Literature," "C Sharp Flats," "Fashion Revue" and "Hilarious Hall."

"Literary Lights" was interpreted by Miss Faye Gould, who gave two charming readings. "Museum of Masterpieces in Literature" consisted (Continued on Page 4)

Hartley Shaw and Wife Are Back From Motor Journey North

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Shaw, the former one of the most prominent attorneys in southern California, of 212 West Park avenue, Glendale, returned last night from an automobile trip into northern California that lasted for about three weeks. They were not accompanied on the outing by their children, who have already had their vacation and who remained at home to "keep house."

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw motored to San Francisco by the coast route and returned to Glendale the same way. Their first plan was to try the valley route, but they finally decided not to take any chances with the heat that might be experienced on the inland route.

While in San Francisco they visited Judge Shaw, father of the Glendale man and one of the most noted jurists in the country. They made a most delightful trip into the Russian river district and also spent a day or so in Berkeley. They also visited Stanford university. Coming home they visited a number of points of interest. They visited the "petrified forest," the "big basin" country and the redwoods.

"It was indeed a most enjoyable trip," said Attorney Shaw this morning. "The Russian river district is a most attractive country and we enjoyed ourselves thoroughly there. Of special interest on the trip was our visit to the Bohemian club's grove where the famous gatherings are held. It is a most wonderful spot. No, I cannot tell you about business conditions in the north, for we were out to enjoy ourselves and I did not hear business discussed to any extent. Yes, there was considerable fog encountered in the bay region, but we were seeking a change of climate and it was appreciated."

MISS MORROW IS HOSTESS
Miss Vesta Morrow of 516 West Doran street entertained a group of friends at her home Saturday night with a surprise party in celebration of the birthday anniversary of her chum, Miss Fay Butler of 516 West Milford street. Games and music provided diversions for the evening, during which refreshments of home-made ice-cream and cake were served. Bouquets of coreopsis decorated the rooms.

The guests present included Miss Fay Butler, Miss Dorothy Howard, Miss Bertha Welmore, Miss Grace Yarbrough, Miss Della Young, Miss Louise Johnson, Dale Wood, Emory Myers, Edgar Shockey, Forrest Jordan, O. Burg, Ray Morrow, Donald Morrow and the hostess, Miss Vesta Morrow.

OFFICIATES AT SERVICES

Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton of 801 East Wilson avenue motored to Long Beach Wednesday where they attended the funeral services of Mrs.
Rebecca Detrick, who died Monday at the Long Beach home of her daughter, Mrs. Laura Hoag. Rev. Norton, in accordance with the final request of the deceased, preached the funeral sermon at Long Beach, and afterward conducted the burial ceremony, which was held at Pasadena.

Rev. and Mrs. Norton were practically lifelong friends of Mrs. Detrick, having been neighbors in Iowa fifty years ago. They have kept in constant touch with the family, Rev.
Norton having officiated at the wedding of Mrs. Detrick's eldest daughter, Mrs. W. J. Wood of Pasadena, at Sweetland, Iowa, thirty years ago, and at that of her other daughter, Mrs. Laura Hoag, at Long Beach twenty-three years later.

ARROW DEADLY AS BULLET

A mounted Indian or white man with bow and arrows sometimes could kill more buffaloes than a man could kill with a rifle, says the American Forestry Magazine. At close range the arrow was as deadly as the bullet, it made less noise, and arrows could be discharged three or four times as rapidly as bullets from nuzzle-loading guns.

CAPTAIN OF DEATH DIRIGIBLE TELLS TRAGIC STORY

Warning; Only American
Saved Has Statement

floated down towards mid-river, almost like a big bird settling on the water. It was almost like having a parachute.

"I looked down and saw the water rushing up at us and when we were about thirty feet from the surface I let go and dropped. I thought I would never come up, but when I did there were tugs and boats already speeding to rescue work. The airship could scarcely have been in the water thirty seconds before they were on the job.

Search for Bodies

"I feel fine, personally. I smoked a cigarette immediately after they pulled me out.

Thousands were gathered on the river front at dawn today, watching the search for bodies of the victims.
The ZR-2 was now invisible, both halves being completely covered by the tide. Preliminary work of salvage was under way.

All night long searching parties worked feverishly lest there should still be someone left alive in the wreckage, which showed above the surface.

Handicapped by darkness, they succeeded in obtaining the bodies of the American dead, which will be sent to the United States. Glimpses of other bodies were had by the rescuers, but they could not be reached.

Widows Watch Workers

Among those who watched the rescue work, pitiful figures in the early morning, were the widows of Commander Louis Maxfield of Washington, and William Julius and William Steele, members of the crew who perished in the greatest tragedy of the air.

Reconstructing statements of eyewitnesses, it seems clear that the hull first began to buckle ominously about midships as the ship turned over the river, and some air officers today said that she may have encountered a sudden air pocket which wrecked the hull by subjecting it to a sudden twist.

"I could hear cries for help but in the general confusion it was difficult to tell where they came from," said one witness.

Find No Survivors

Pilot Osborne, one of the men engaged in rescue work, said:

"We worked all night, but were unable to extricate any bodies.

"Our lamps threw weird shadows inside the half submerged wreckage and often we thought we heard groans or saw something move, but we found no survivors.

"We saw the dead bodies of two men in American uniforms. One hung by its coat, awkwardly, like a ghastly scare crow. We tried hard to reach them, but were unable to, owing to the swelling tide, which washed us away."

The force of the explosion when the ZR-2 burst was felt for twenty-five miles. Thousands of pounds damage was done in Hull by the breaking of windows.

British and American naval officers conferred here today as to the best means of salvaging the debris of the rear portion of the ZR-2, which fell in the mud and was this morning submerged by the high tide.

Divers were ready to explore the wreckage at 1 o'clock this afternoon, when, unless the tide had materially shifted, the shattered dirigible would again be visible.

It was hoped to reach the control car from which Commander Wann leaped at the last moment. Several bodies might be found in the car, naval officers said, after conferring with Wann at the hospital.

Evidence of Great Heat

American naval officers formed salvage parties which worked during the morning.

of charred wood from one of the bunks, which were built into the interior of the envelope, were found, testifying to the terrific heat of the explosion.

Experts said they believed the buckling occurred in the rear of No. 10 frame when the ZR-2 buckled five weeks ago. The buckling of the ship at this point would have caused the bursting of petrol pipes, naval officers said.

Petrol, leaking down upon the engines of the control car, would have burst into flames and an instant later the petrol tanks in the car would have exploded.

Theory Most Plausible

This theory of the accident was considered the most plausible by experts, especially as the control was known to have been wrecked by an explosion.

A graphic eye-witness story of the disaster was given to the United Press today by David Phipson, who photographed the debris immediately after the explosion and crash.

"I was standing at the quay side," Phipson said. "The airship had just emerged from behind some clouds and was outlined against the clear blue sky.

"What a beautiful thing! I remarked to a bystander without taking my eyes from the speeding envelope far overhead.

"Suddenly a wrinkle appeared about the middle of the airship's back. It deepened and others followed and for two or three seconds they grew more pronounced. All of a sudden the whole structure lurched and sagged in the middle.

"Her nose and stern went up in the air, while a great split appeared in the bottom.

"And when that gaping crack did open there came tumbling men, debris, blankets and bits of wood and steel, while we who were watching were petrified with horror.

Then two terrible explosions rent the airship still further.

"Fragments of frame work, men and all the details of the interior mechanism of the great ship fell in a terrible shower. Out through the great gap in the hull they shot, turning and twisting in the air, striking the water with terrible force."

LAUGH, CRY, ENJOY 'OVER THE HILL' AT GLENDAL E

Johnnie Walker as 'Black Sheep' Appears in Person; Is Emotional Triumph

"Over the Hill," the new William Fox feature photoplay that has been sweeping New York off its feet for many months, was shown yesterday for the first time anywhere at regular prices at the Glendale Theatre.
The local premiere, which had been awaited with keen interest, proved beyond the shadow of doubt that "Over the Hill" is all that our New York friends declare it to be, and judging from many comments on its first screening here, it is one of the biggest hits that Glendale has ever enjoyed.

Capacity Crowds Attend Capacity audiences were on hand to greet the picture and give it a hearty and richly deserved welcome; paying not only the tribute of spontaneous laughter to its many delightful comedy scenes, but paying also the rarer tribute of sympathetic tears to its pathetic episode.

The story, which was taken from Will Carleton's poems, recounts the joys and sorrows of a typical mother, who raises a large family of children, only to have them, in her old age, allow her to drift from them, to eke out an existence on charity. The "black sheep" son, however, when he discovers this condition, comes to his aged mother's rescue, and all ends happily—with the little mother, just like every true mother that ever lived, forgiving and forgetting the selfishness and cruelty of her own flesh and blood.

Emotions Are Stirred
With the most beautiful climaxes ever devised, it is a production that stirs the emotions of men and women as they never before have been stirred by a presentation in Glendale. Your neighbors who saw it will tell you to be among those present tonight.
The first show is at 7 and the second at 9 with Johnnie Walker, who plays the role of the "black sheep," appearing in person at the close of the first show. He received a great ovation last night, appearing twice although injured yesterday afternoon in a studio mishap.

WOMAN SPEAKER STOPPED

MASON CITY, Iowa, Aug. 25.— Speaking before 2,000 people at a park here last night, Mrs. Ida Crouch Hazlett, New York socialist campaigner, was yanked from her speaking platform in the middle of a speech on Eugene Debs, taken ten miles into the country in an automobile, and was unceremoniously "dumped out" in the road.
"I was kidnapped by the American Legion," Mrs. Hazlett told the United Press today. Members of the kidnaping party were said to have declared that they "preferred to be known as the Ku Klux Klan," rumors of the formation of an Iowa branch of the southern organization have been persistent in Iowa this summer. Mrs. Hazlett declared this morning that the Salvation Army was used as a subterfuge to catch her unawares. "They got the army to come marching in front of me, waving their flags and singing," she said. "Then the mob attacked me, jerking me from the stand."

CONVENTION NOW CLOSED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.— With the national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union closed after a week's sessions, the national executive committee of the organization met today to lay plans for carrying out policies the convention adopted. A nation-wide campaign in favor of disarmament, further blows at the liquor traffic and an educational campaign against cigarettes—were to be the main questions before the meeting.

New Hope of Life In Russia at News Food Supplies Come

By JOHN GRAUDENZ
United Press Staff Correspondent
Copyright 1921, by the United Press MOSCOW, Aug. 25.—News that American relief was on its way spread like wildfire through famine-stricken Russia.

Starving thousands, reduced to the last extremity, have taken on new hope of life.

Here in Moscow, where life is vastly easier than in the famine-stricken regions, the reports that food from America was soon to come brought encouragement to a war-weary population.

Conditions in Moscow were said by my informants to be greatly improved since 1920. If there were no famine in the Volga, they said, 1922 would undoubtedly have seen still further improvement.

Nevertheless, I found life here terribly hard. We get paper tickets for everything here—for food, shoes and clothes.

"We cannot eat paper. We cannot wear paper," the citizens complain.

Salaries and wages in Moscow are at lowest ebb. Many people are selling everything they have in order to exist. Families crowd together in small holes of rooms. One kitchen serves a half dozen families, that fuel may be conserved.

There are more than two million people here in Moscow and not nearly enough houses for them. In the poorer sections of the city the overcrowding is a spectacle terrible to contemplate.

Yet, with all that, and the dread famine ravaging the country, the people of Moscow that I have met are not too pessimistic.

"Things are not so bad here," said a Russian doctor who had returned from the famine area.

Horrible Tales to Tell

He and his wife were convinced that things would improve. They had been engaged in relief work and had horrible tales of famine, suffering and disease to tell. They themselves, formerly prosperous, were reduced to their last extremity financially.

"But why do you remain in Russia? Why do you not go to Latvia?" I asked.

I had heard that the heroism woman, who had risked her life and given her private fortune to help the famine sufferers, had parents living in the border state.

"I shall be glad to visit Latvia some day," she replied, with a proud lift of her head. "But I would not live in Latvia for anything. We love our country."

This intense patriotism of most Russians I have met here has been a source of surprise.

"Why, life is free here," the doctor's wife continued. "Much freer than anywhere else. Life, it has no limitations at all in Russia. Life is interesting. Some day it will be better here."

This was the feeling which I found on every side, a measure of optimism not entirely exterminated by famine.
The cholera is being conquered, the people point out; American relief will stay the famine; shops are opening here, though with meagre stocks.
Still, "things will get better," that seems to be the Russian philosophy today.

CALLS PASTOR MALE VAMP

SANTA ROSA, Calif., Aug. 25.—
"He's a male vampire," was the answer Mrs. E. N. Palmer made today to the charges of the Rev. John Spencer that she is responsible for his arrest for the alleged murder of his wife. "I am ready to confront him right here in Santa Rosa or to go on the witness stand and swear to what I know about him, even if I knew it meant he would hang," she said.

Spencer was formally arrested, charged with killing his wife. Mrs.
Palmer made the following charges against the minister: That trouble started over a "Mrs. Duncks," to whom, Mrs. Palmer told authorities and newspaper men, Spencer gave "treatments" by means of the "laying on of hands" while he and Mrs.
Duncks were in the kitchen and Mrs.
Spencer was in the parlor of the Duncks home. That Mrs. Spencer often left the Duncks home with her husband, in a hysterical condition.
That Spencer in the presence of Mrs.
Palmer, threatened to "murder to gain my ends." That Spencer had a knowledge of drugs and kept his wife under the influence of opiates on many occasions. That the minister cursed his wife. Mrs. Palmer declared that Mrs. Spencer was warned not to accompany her husband to Lake county on the trip during which she died.

BIG OUTBREAK OF NATIVES

BOMBAY, Aug. 25.—Stirred by religious fanatics, armed mobs of thousands of natives are spreading fire and terror in the Malabar district. Desperate appeals for help have been sent out by white inhabitants. Military reinforcements were today reported arriving. A native mob marching through several successive small towns, burned dwellings of the white inhabitants, looted the postoffices and public buildings and destroyed private property. Railway lines have been cut in several places. Military garrisons at Malabar were fired on by the mobs. Many casualties resulted.

Though many guests be absent, it is the cheerful man we miss.—Africin the case of Willard Atherton Nich-

READY FOR LEGION DANCES

In preparation for the resuming of the regular winter season of Saturday night dances, which are scheduled to begin shortly after the first of September, the American legion hall at 610A East Broadway is being redecorated and slightly altered by Joe Kucera, who is the "house man" of the local former service men's organization. The floor is being scraped and refinished and, according to those in charge of the job, will compare favorably with that of any dance hall in Glendale when completed.

The regular American legion orchestra, which has just recently been organized, is holding weekly rehearsals, and each of its six members have promised that Glendale dance enthusiasts will be furnished with "real jazz" during the coming season.

is predicted, for the course will be productive of credit on the regular college standings.

rected yesterday to H. B. Titcomb, vice-president of the road.

'SCRAP IRON' WITH CHARLES RAY AT PALACE GRAND

'Miracles of Jungles' Also on Great Double Bill; Kiddies Enjoy It

For those who delight in a tense dramatic story, for those who love a good fight, for those who appreciate filial affection, and for all others who like strong clean entertainment, a treat is being offered by the Palace Grand Theatre in the showing of "Scrap Iron," starring Charles Ray. It is a First National attraction and will remain Friday and Saturday.

Ray has done some of the most amusing stories that have ever been shown on the screen. In "Scrap Iron," however, he goes farther in portraying a role which abounds with strong pathos and tense emotional work. His performance of the role of John Steel is perfect, and between the dramatic situations there is enough of his peculiar droll humor to satisfy even the most ardent Ray enthusiast.

Kiddies Enjoy Jungle Film

And this afternoon just about every youngster in town is the guest of Manager N. J. Fleming at the initial episode of "Miracles of the Jungle," which is the added attraction with "Scrap Iron." "When the Whale Was Jonah" and the Paramount Magazine fill the big bill to overflowing.

Due to unavoidable delay, the new Hope-Jones Wuritzer organ will not be played until Sunday. However, the orchestra music will equal the pictures.

The lobby of the Palace Grand has been artistically decorated in honor of the initial showing of "Miracles of the Jungle."

Frying Steak Causes Arrest; Denial Issued

"Frying a steak" brought J. C.
Kinzy, city passenger agent for the Santa Catalina Island company, a resident of 303 East Elk avenue, into Justice of the Peace Harry Miller's court this morning, it being alleged that he left a fire unextinguished in Tuna canyon recently.

Mr. Kinzy denies the charge and states he will have witnesses present September 12 at 10 a. m. to prove that he used the fire for "frying a steak and was with it until extinguished."

O. M. Thurston, deputy county fire warden who patrols the hills hereabout, brought Mr. Kinzy into court today and the latter was released on his own recognizance, being well known about town and in Los Angeles.

Great care must be used by campers and picnic parties in extinguishing fires, according to Mr. Thurston, otherwise serious conflagrations may result which cost the county thousands of dollars in combatting. Due to the airplane patrols and rigid enforcement of rules no serious mountain blaze has been reported this year in Los Angeles county.

Judge Miller states that legal business this summer shows a great increase over former periods. Already this month more cases have been filed in my court than any two previous months, the judge stated.
The new small claims court law is making additional work for the court.

'BILL' ALEXANDER IS LUCKY

"Bill" Alexander, one of the youngest Ford salesman in the Glendale Ford agency, had a stroke of luck today.

In passing F. A. Clarke's electrical store on East Broadway this morning he saw that the four turtles which have the four letters, I, R, O, N, on their backs were lined up in perfect order spelling IRON and according to the rules of the contest he went in and claimed a new "Hotpoint" electric iron.

This is the first time the turtles have been found in this position, although they have been in the window for several weeks. Mr. Clarke has more irons to give any others who are lucky enough to find the turtles in correct formation.

Neb., are now domiciled in the beautiful home at 301 North Brand boulevard, corner of California street, with their daughter, Mrs. D. S. Ches-ney and her daughter, Virginia. The residence was formerly occupied by Colonel and Mrs. Tom Thornton who have moved to Randolph street. Mr.
Way is a prominent stockman of the Nebraska metropolis who spends his winters in Southern California.

SILVER TEA IS SUCCESS

A silver tea given yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George A. Blanchet, 371 Pioneer drive, was a great financial success, about $42 being received for the Holy Family church building fund. High score at 500 was made by Mrs. Brousseau and at whist by Mrs. Farrell. Mrs.
Blanchet was assisted as hostess by Mesdames Vogel, Farrell, Zimmer, Leslie and McGowan.

M. L. White Secures Fine Residence Site In Verdugo Woodlands

M. L. White, a painting contractor of Hollywood, has purchased a residence site on El Rito avenue in Verdugo Woodlands and he expects to start building at once. The house will cost him in the neighborhood of $5,000.

Saturday sales are being featured by R. D. Estes of the Verdugo Woodlands grocery at 2515 Canada boulevard. He has added E. L. Busher of 141 South Maryland avenue as clerk for his store and employs a deliveryman. He is attracting trade from Montrose and La Crescenta as well as Glendale.

Mrs. W. L. Twining of 1900 Canada boulevard returned home Sunday after several weeks' visit with her sister at High Lake, Ill. The latter was seriously ill.

The F. P. Newport company, subdividers of Verdugo Woodlands, will have an exhibit at the Greater Glendale Exposition.

HUGE SUMS ARE INVOLVED

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. — Spurious stock transactions and business promotion schemes totaling close to $20,000,000 were traced today to the gang alleged to have been headed by Charles W. French. Federal investigators made this announcement, after spending the night going over records seized and confessions made by three of those arrested in connection with the gang's work. Investigators traced operations of the gang through frenzied schemes of banking, check kiting, broken fortunes and bankruptcies.

New evidence showed at least seventeen companies involved in the speculations. The gang specialized in bank wrecking, according to evidence the federal agents said they had uncovered. At the time the gang's operations were exposed they were on the verge of completing a deal to buy a bank in Milwaukee for $800,000. According to the plan of operation, certified checks on a Washington, D. C., bank for $500,- 000 would be given for the first payment for the Milwaukee institution.
As soon as the gang obtained control of the bank, they would issue $1,- 000,000 certificates of deposit, on which money would be borrowed in Chicago and rushed to Washington to cover the checks. With the bank in their hands and dummy officials and directors, they could proceed as they desired. Evidence that four other banks were wrecked in this manner by the gang was obtained by the investigators and negotiations to obtain control of additional financial institutions were exposed.

Miss Marjorie Weyand Assisting Her Father

Miss Marjorie Weyand, who recently arrived in Glendale from her former home at Denver, Colo., after an extended visit in Minneapolis, Minn., is assisting her father, C. M.
Weyand, with the office work at the Southern California Metropolitan Loan association at 113 West Broadway.

According to Mr. Weyand the business of the Glendale office of the Loan Association is increasing rapidly and they could loan three times the amount of money if it were available as an income for homebuilders who are anxious to go ahead with work here.

The Southern California Metropolitan Loan association is enthusiastic over the future of Glendale and expresses a desire that more people acquaint themselves with advantages of their institution for investments which will build the city more rapidly.

MAY FIX FUTURE POLICY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.—
The future of American naval aviation may be determined in part by the explosion that destroyed the ZR-2. Many officials are planning to ask congress for funds to replace the destroyed aircraft as soon as they have made a thorough investigation into the cause of the accident over Hull, England. They also say they will go ahead with the construction of the ZR-1, similar to the ZR-2, which is being built near Lakehurst.
N. J. Members of the house and senate naval affairs committees, however, said they believed no further funds for dirigible construction should be granted now and the work on the ZR-1 should be held up, if not dropped altogether.

ACCUSED WOMAN BETTER

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Mrs.
Madalynne Obenchain, under indicment in connection with the Kennedy murder case, is "slightly better," matrons at the county jail reported today. It will probably be unnecessary to remove Mrs. Obenchain to the hospital, in view of her improved condition, according to the announcement. Mrs. Obenchain is suffering from a nervous collapse.
